

Stimuli list for Study 1

---

Verb	Context sentence and prompt Adjectival modifier collapse_NonAlt	The colonial building collapsed slowly. This/It ____ comeup_NonAlt	The bureaucratic problem came up again. This/It ____ materialize_NonAlt	The greatest opportunity materialized unexpectedly. This/It ____ age_Alt	The Northern Italian wine aged well. This/It ____ develop_Alt	The inspiring project developed fast. This/It ____ flicker_Alt	The green light flickered incessantly. This/It ____ sound_Alt	The brand new siren sounded loud. This/It ____ start_Alt	The last championship match started badly. This/It ____ Prepositional phrase modifier arrive_NonAlt	The train from the Highlands arrived promptly. This/It ____ bloom_NonAlt	The plant with the purple leaves bloomed gracefully. This/It ____ blow_NonAlt	The wind from the mountains blew cold. This/It ____ fall_NonAlt	The book with the parchment pages fell down. This/It ____ clear_Alt	The fog from the plains cleared up. This/It ____ cook_Alt	The cake for the guests cooked poorly. This/It ____ pop_Alt	The balloon with the red hearts popped noiselessly. This/It ____ slam_Alt	The door with the strange signs slammed heavily. This/It ____ Relative clause modifier die_NonAlt	The battery that I had replaced died soon. This/It ____ disappear_NonAlt	The key that we had hidden disappeared inexplicably. This/It ____ stink_NonAlt	The milk that you had put in the black cups stank horribly. This/It ____ break_Alt	The car that had two flat tires broke down. This/It ____ clog_Alt	The sink that was used most often clogged quickly. This/It ____ explode_Alt	The bomb that the arsonists had planted exploded violently. This/It ____ melt_Alt	The snow that was covering the fields melted down. This/It ____ pass_Alt	The pain that was annoying me passed spontaneously. This/It ____

Example stimuli for Study 2

Passages adapted from ParCorFull.

Labels reflect ParCorFull expression and entity annotations.

Condition	it-entity
Antecedent	depression
Corpus example	People think of depression as being just sadness. It's much, much too much sadness, much too much grief at far too slight a cause.
Study prompt	People think of depression as being just sadness. This/It ----
Condition	it-event
Antecedent	Democracy is in trouble
Corpus example	Democracy is in trouble, no question about that, and it comes in part from a deep dilemma in which it is embedded.
Study prompt	Democracy is in trouble, no question about that. This/It ----
Condition	this-entity
Antecedent	a cultural challenge
Corpus example	But along with the scientific challenge and the economic challenge, there's also a cultural challenge, and this is probably the part about malaria that people don't like to talk about.
Study prompt	Along with the scientific challenge and the economic challenge, there's also a cultural challenge. This/It ----
Condition	this-event
Antecedent	In 1989, more than 90,000 employees worked for the Stasi
Corpus example	In 1989, more than 90,000 employees worked for the Stasi. This meant that one employee was responsible for 180 inhabitants, which was really unique in the world.
Study prompt	In 1989, more than 90,000 employees worked for the Stasi. This/It ----